

Curtain Sale

Interesting Savings

OUR curtain department will certainly be a busy corner in our store next Saturday as we shall offer for one day some rare bargains in Lace and Muslin Curtains. If you have a curtain need, the time to provide for it is now, and here, while this special sale is in full swing. We quote below only a few of the many values we shall have to offer. Remember this sale is for one day only, Saturday, March 12.

Lot No. 1.—One lot of Muslin and Lace Curtains, only a small quantity left, while they last, pair	33c	Lot No. 7.—2 pair Lace Curtains, $6.00 value, per pair	3.98
Lot No. 2.—One pair of Lace Curtains, $1.25 value, for	98c	Lot No. 8.—1 pair Lace Curtains, $7.50 value, per pair	4.98
Lot No. 3.—4 pair Lace Curtains, $1.75 value, per pair	1.25	Lot No. 9.—One pair Muslin Curtains, 60c value, for	45c
Lot No. 4.—3 pair Lace Curtains, $2.50 value, per pair	1.75	Lot No. 10.—2 pair of Muslin Curtains, $1 value, per pair	75c
Lot No. 5.—1 pair Lace Curtains, $4.50 value, per pair	2.98	Lot No. 11.—3 pair Muslin Curtains, 1.39 value, pair	1.15
Lot No. 6.—2 pair Lace Curtains, $5.00 value, per pair	2.98	Lot No. 12.—3 pair Muslin Curtains, 1.75 value, pair	1.37

There will also be several good values in Lace and Muslin Curtains, and some very handsome new designs in Scrim Curtains on sale that space will not permit us to mention here:

The Homer Fitts Company

MEN'S STORM BOOTS

All our Boots $6.00 Storm $4.75
All our Boots $5.00 Storm $3.95
All our Boots $4.00 Storm $2.85
All our Boots $3.50 Storm $2.65

For a few days we will offer the balance of our Men's High Cut Shoes at the above prices.

BARRE SHOE COMPANY

The Cash Shoe Store

KODAK CAMERA SEASON

Now On.

We carry everything for picture making. Developing and printing done.

E. A. DROWN

An Advertisement in the Times Will Bring Sure Results.

KODAKS, CAMERAS and SUPPLIES Banjos, $3, $12 Accordions, Harmonicas, Gramophones and Records, Disks and Cylinders, Cabinets and racks for holding records, Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar strings, Pins, Cuff Buttons, Collar Buttons, Rings, etc., best gold plated goods. Checker and Cribbage Board, Toy Wagons, Wheelbarrows, Hockey Sticks and Toboggans, Basket Ball Pumps, Bronze, Copper, Silver and Gold Paints, dry and liquid, Brushes and Stripping Pencils, Plagues, Pallets and painters' supplies; Meerschaum Pipes and Cigar Holders, Writing Paper, Ink and Copy Books, Christmas Candles and many other articles. Come in and see for yourself. All the above at two-thirds the usual price while they last. Call after 3 P. M.

L. M. Averill, Up One Flight, Averill Building, Over Barre Times Office, 18 North Main Street, Barre, Vermont.

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1910.

Weather Prediction.

Fair to-night and warmer; Saturday unsettled; moderate northeast and east winds.

TALK OF THE TOWN

New spring goods at Vaughan's. Saturday sale, $1.25 black kid gloves 70c, at Vaughan's.

For fit and service, get a Good Service wrapper at Abbott's.

Addison Denny of Boston visited friends in this city to-day.

Sheldon Brown, who is ill with pneumonia, remains about the same.

Percy Manning of Waterbury visited friends in this city yesterday.

Whist party in Odd Fellows hall Saturday evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

Oreste Verga left yesterday for North Jay, Maine, where he will reside.

Until Saturday only for sewing shoes at such low figures at C. S. Andrews' shoe store.

John B. Kelly was called to Burlington yesterday by the serious illness of his mother.

Mrs. Nellie George returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit in Springfield and Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Charles T. Southgate went to South Royalton this morning to visit her mother, who is ill.

"A Night Off," one of the most popular four-act comedies of the season, at the opera house, April 8.

Charles Robinson of North Monro, N. H., is visiting his aunt, Mrs. L. L. Kinney of Franklin street.

Public dance at Woodmen's hall Saturday, March 12; Gilbertson's orchestra; 50c per couple, ladies free.

Saturday special, fine lingerie waists, trimmed with lace and insertion, something new, 98c. Paris Shirtwaist House.

Ernest Griffin, who is attending the Springfield Business college at Springfield, Mass., is visiting at his home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tanner of Marshfield visited their daughter, Miss Clara Tanner, at Goddard seminary yesterday.

Mrs. L. J. Chapin, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Moses Charbonneau, returned to-day to her home in Shelburne.

Miss Willa Marsh is teaching in the primary department of the school at East Barre during the illness of the regular teacher, Mr. Fish.

A social and dance will be held in the K. of C. hall 815 Patrick's evening, March 17, under the auspices of the A. O. U. and the Ladies' auxiliary.

M. M. Gordon was the winner of two ribbons and a special cash prize on his Boston terrier bitch, Sally Fifi, at the dog show held recently in Boston.

Mrs. William Hosmer returned to her home in Fair Haven to-day, after a visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McKenzie, of Merchant street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cutler, J. W. Gordon and E. D. Ladd returned last evening from Boston, where they went to attend the automobile show.

Superintendent O. D. Mathewson went to Burlington yesterday, where he attended the modern language conference and will attend the banquet of the Schoolmasters' club this evening.

The last dance of the Wells series will be held in Woodmen's hall Friday evening, beginning promptly at eight. It will be a "farmers' dance," and ladies are requested to bring dinner-pails.

The clerks at the Fitts store were guests at the home of H. W. Quimby of Eastern avenue last evening. The evening was pleasantly passed with games and music, and refreshments were served.

George Barber, who is attending Holiness school at Plymouth, N. H., is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Barber, on account of illness, but expects to be able to return to his school soon.

As regularly as spring comes around, A. M. Stafford, the painter, is on hand with the first sweet pea blossoms, and The Times was favored with a bunch of them to-day. These were grown from seed planted January 1 and were, of course, grown indoors.

Word has been received by O. J. Howes of the death at Fitzwilliam Depot, N. H., of Mrs. Laura (Thompson) Angier, formerly a resident of Barre. The death occurred on March 8 and the funeral was held on March 9. Mrs. Angier was the daughter of Hosea Thompson and resided in Barre many years. Her husband was once engaged in the granite quarrying business, going to Fitzwilliam Depot about fifteen years ago.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Sale wash goods at Vaughan's. 25c embroidery flouncing for 10c yard, at Vaughan's.

Read the advertisement of Moore & Owens on page 2.

Cash paid for watches, diamonds, gold and silver, at Burr's.

Cut flowers and funeral designs at Youngson's, 7 Pearl street. Tel. 432-11.

First-class repairing on watches, clocks, jewelry. Work guaranteed at Kidder's.

If it is a spring hat, the Frank McWhorter Co. has the best makes, from 50c to $4.00.

Mrs. Ira Holmes of North Chelms is a guest at the home of Mrs. E. H. Holmes of Eastern avenue.

"A Night Off," one of the most popular four-act comedies of the season, at the opera house, April 8.

The Frank McWhorter company is prepared to have your Panama or soft hat cleaned and rebuffed, and by sending them at once the work can be done in a better manner and at a less price. Please bring hats by Monday, March 14.

George Barber, who is attending Holiness school at Plymouth, N. H., is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Barber, on account of illness, but expects to be able to return to his school soon.

As regularly as spring comes around, A. M. Stafford, the painter, is on hand with the first sweet pea blossoms, and The Times was favored with a bunch of them to-day. These were grown from seed planted January 1 and were, of course, grown indoors.

Word has been received by O. J. Howes of the death at Fitzwilliam Depot, N. H., of Mrs. Laura (Thompson) Angier, formerly a resident of Barre. The death occurred on March 8 and the funeral was held on March 9. Mrs. Angier was the daughter of Hosea Thompson and resided in Barre many years. Her husband was once engaged in the granite quarrying business, going to Fitzwilliam Depot about fifteen years ago.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

George Barber, who is attending Holiness school at Plymouth, N. H., is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Barber, on account of illness, but expects to be able to return to his school soon.

As regularly as spring comes around, A. M. Stafford, the painter, is on hand with the first sweet pea blossoms, and The Times was favored with a bunch of them to-day. These were grown from seed planted January 1 and were, of course, grown indoors.

Word has been received by O. J. Howes of the death at Fitzwilliam Depot, N. H., of Mrs. Laura (Thompson) Angier, formerly a resident of Barre. The death occurred on March 8 and the funeral was held on March 9. Mrs. Angier was the daughter of Hosea Thompson and resided in Barre many years. Her husband was once engaged in the granite quarrying business, going to Fitzwilliam Depot about fifteen years ago.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of the members of the cast. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments of cake and cream were served, after which games and dances were enjoyed.

The entertainment and social held at the Presbyterian church last evening, under the auspices of the young men's Bible class was one of the most successful ever held in the church, and the vestry was well filled with people. The entertainment was opened with a short address by Rev. J. D. MacKenzie, followed by selections by the male quartet. Then came a vocal solo by Miss Anna Robertson, followed by an encore. Runald Gaud gave a vocal solo, and then came the farce, "A Desperate Situation." This farce proved the hit of the evening, was handled in a manner that kept the audience laughing throughout and was met with hearty applause at its close. The characters were "Mrs. Comfort," "Miss Christine Ross," "Gustav Poppo," "George Mackay," "Amelia Waggles," "Miss Jessie Anderson," "Key O'Boater," "Robert Mackay," "Mrs. O'Boater," "Miss Mamie McDonald," a porter, E. A. Folson. All of the characters were well portrayed and showed the result of much study on the part of